Public Consultation

September 2026

Tuesday 29 September to Sunday 18 October 2026

FAWLEY WATERSIDE

Our updated plans for Fawley Waterside

Following our first round of public consultation earlier this year, we will be presenting our progressed proposals for the former Fawley Power Station site. Over 235 people attended our public exhibition events in June/July and we received 170 pieces of feedback from local residents, businesses and stakeholders, which has helped inform our emerging plans.

We are now inviting the community, stakeholders and interested parties to review our more developed employment-led masterplan and environmental information.

The proposals will create a thriving centre for energy, engineering, maritime and digital industries. As part of the Solent Freeport, the development aims to support long-term economic growth and create new local employment opportunities across the region.

More information can be found on our website from Tuesday 29 September from 3pm at www.fawleywaterside.co.uk.
